

RETURNING WITH SALT LAKE GIRL

Louise Schwartz Reluctantly
Leaves Jail to Go Home
With Her Parents.

LEAVES NOTE FOR LOVER

IMPLORES HIM TO FOLLOW HER TO UTAH WHEN HE IS FREE.

(Special to The Herald.)
Denver, Colo., Nov. 28.—Resisting almost with force, Louise Schwartz was taken from the city jail by her parents, who left with her tonight for Salt Lake. The girl recognized her parents this morning, but declared she would not leave Adolph Pretzenberger, her lover, who admitted he caused her ruin, and for whom she was willing to go to the penitentiary, confessing that she had committed the robberies with which he is charged. Pretzenberger will be tried on the burglary charges. The girl left a note for him in which she implored him to come to her in Salt Lake and marry her. The girl's stricken parents have consented to this although the father looks upon Pretzenberger as the despoiler of his home. In her note the girl tells the man that she will remain true to him and hopes that he will be free soon to join her. The police here say that the girl seems so infatuated that she would be useless as a witness against Pretzenberger.

The story of Louise Schwartz, as told exclusively in Saturday's Herald, proved to be a revelation and distinct surprise to those who know her and her family. That she is a modern Sapphira, and exceptionally adept in the gentle art of lying is, however, the general conclusion, and her confession of being a bold, bad burglar and that she had lived a life of thievery is laughed at. Those who know her say that she was "peculiar" and it is believed that the fantastic tales she tells of her part in crime are simply the wild, vague utterings of a dream in which she pictures herself enacting the role of the heroine saving the man with whom she is infatuated from the prison.

Although to the Denver police she asserted that she is 20 years old, she is little more than 18. She left Salt Lake and her home last August, when she followed Pretzenberger to Denver. As told in The Herald, Pretzenberger had been an inmate of the Schwartz home until the father discovered that he had betrayed the daughter. Immediately after the disappearance of Pretzenberger, his victim, Louise, left her home, evidently following Pretzenberger to Denver.

Her parents, although they had employed the police in the search for their daughter, were ignorant of her whereabouts until, last Wednesday, a woman for whom the girl had formerly worked called up the father, Joseph Schwartz, at the 1 X L furniture store, where he is employed, and told him that she had just received a Denver paper containing the photograph of his daughter and a story detailing her arrest. Mr. Schwartz, accompanied by his wife, left Thursday for Denver and upon arriving there identified the girl held in custody as their daughter.

In this connection a curious sidelight is thrown on the girl's character and her ability as an accomplice. When she was arrested she told the police that her parents had long been in the city, and that she had been working for them. When Chief of Police Armstrong of Denver received a telegram from Mr. Schwartz saying that he was leaving for Denver, the chief went to the matron's quarters and, taking the girl to one side, asked: "Are your parents still living?" "Are they dead?" was the reply. "I guess I ought to know. I attended the funeral of both in Salt Lake."

"Well," responded the chief, with some heat, "you're a liar, and you know it. Here is a telegram from your father. He and your mother will be here tomorrow and you will have a chance to see just how dead they are."

At this, and for the first time since her arrest, Louise Schwartz lost her bravado and broke down. She would make no explanation, but, running to a cot, threw herself upon it and, burying her face in the pillow, she gave vent to her feelings in sobs and tears.

Two years ago Louise Schwartz was employed in a millinery store in Salt Lake. She served her apprenticeship of six months, and was kept on three months longer, when she was discharged for the reason that she had made no advancement. It is said at the store that during her service there she was regarded as being peculiar, and in various ways showed a strange temperament. In police circles her story of having committed thefts in Salt Lake for a period of years is scouted. The local force cannot recall a single instance when she was ever before them, even though she tells in her confession that she was questioned by detectives. From newspaper accounts, the Denver police also take no stock in her tales and believe them to be simply an insane idea on her part that she by her confession may be able to save Pretzenberger. For this reason she is not held as an accomplice, but has been turned over to her parents. Mr. and Mrs. Schwartz, with their daughter, will arrive in Salt Lake this evening.

STAMP HOLIDAY PACKAGES

Red Cross Adopts Unique Method of Raising Funds to Fight Consumption.

A unique way of helping out on the health crusade now sweeping over the country has been devised by the Red Cross society, and although there is no local branch of that organization, Salt Lake is to do its part in the work. The Red Cross stamp, a beautiful little Christmas stamp, is to be sold for the convenience of Christmas shoppers and used to hold the dainty holiday packages together, in place of the yards of ribbon heretofore utilized for that purpose.

The Woman's league has secured 100,000 of the stamps, which are to be sold here this season, and as the stamps are only a cent each, they will doubtless prove popular. Added to the fact that they are most attractive for the uses to which they are to be put, is the fact that the proceeds are to be used to stamp out "the great white plague." The work has already been well started in Delaware, and a fine sum of money realized to carry on the work of the health league there. The local workers will give what funds they obtain to the local health league now being organized by the medical men and other public-spirited persons of the city and state.

THREE DIVORCE SUITS.

One Abused Husband and Two Wives Seek Legal Redress.

Thomas E. St. Clergy brought suit for divorce yesterday against Fannie St. Clergy. The couple was married at Greenwood, Miss., Sept. 5, 1898, and they have two children, 5 and 8 years, respectively. The husband charges his wife with desertion.

Clara Knadle brought a divorce suit against William Knadle. She alleges extreme cruelty and threatening to kill. The couple was married Oct. 28, 1898, and there are four children, whose custody she asks.

Allie E. White is made defendant in a suit for divorce brought by R. T. White. Desertion is the ground alleged. They were married Feb. 4, 1894.

LEAPS FROM WINDOW.

Chinaman Injured in Escaping From Burning Restaurant.

A fire breaking out about midnight in the second story of an oil stove. Four Chinamen were sleeping in the room, and were awakened by the explosion and the rapidly spreading flames. The fire department responded quickly to the alarm and extinguished the blaze before any great damage was done. The loss is estimated to be $300 on the building and $200 on the contents.

With the Thanksgiving holiday, the big snowstorm and the subsequent cold weather to contend with, the real estate business slowed down last week and fell somewhat behind the business of the preceding weeks in the point of transactions closed.

The two days' snowstorm was not alone harmful to the real estate activity, but was a body blow to the big building operations underway. All progress on public improvements was shut down and men who worked on buildings were laid off all over the city. Only inside work on buildings going up is being carried on now.

The snowfall made it impossible to continue work on several important structures which have just commenced to rise from their foundations, notably the Daly hotel, Fourth South and State streets; the Dooly warehouse; First West and Second South streets; and the new Commercial club building, Cactus and Fourth South streets. Fifty men were laid off on the Daly building alone. Contractors on all the buildings hope to resume work when the snow disappears. Paving work on First South street and other parts of the city and sewer work on Second West street have been abandoned until the snow melts and the weather warms up.

The firm of Stowe & Palmer, among the real estate brokers, report good business. They closed the following deals during the week:

House and lot, No. 231 K street, from Ervin Jensen to A. Ellis, price $4,200.

House and lot, No. 319 E street, sold by H. S. Stowe to T. E. Smith for $4,600.

House and lot, No. 88 East Ninth South street, sold by E. B. Palmer to Hattie Knight for $2,000.

Pair of lots in Federal Heights sold to J. A. DeSouze for $2,800.

Lot, corner of Sixth avenue and E streets, sold by Ron Hendrickson to Charles Tyng for $1,000.

KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS MEET.

At a session of Lincoln lodge No. 23, Knights of Pythias, held in Castle hall, Saturday night, the third degree was conferred upon Esquire Albert Hoffman, after which a banquet was served. Fifty-five members sat at the tables and enjoyed the good things spread before them. Dr. C. I. Douglas acted as toastmaster, and toasts were responded to by Past Supreme Representative F. W. Gardner, Grand Vice Chancellor W. P. Cooper, Grand Prelate E. O. Leatherwood, Supreme Representative C. P. Jennings, Past Grand Chancellor H. N. Standish, Chancellor Commander Mark Readall.

Valuable Recipe When Afflicted With Rheumatism or Backache, Also Splendid Tonic.

At the first sign of rheumatic pains or backache, or a feeling of being generally run down and weakened, the following simple prescription should be used:

"One ounce compound syrup Sarsaparilla; one ounce Toris compound; half pint high grade whiskey. Mix them and take a tablespoonful before each meal and at bed time. The bottle must be well shaken each time."

Any druggist will supply these ingredients. This will eradicate the acid poisons from the blood and build up the system to its normal healthfulness. The splendid effects will become manifest after the first few doses, but it should be continued until the person has fully regained health. The worst cases of rheumatism are bound to yield to this treatment.

Variscite, Coral, Cameo and Turquoise Matrix Jewelry

The rage in Jewelry is Semi-Precious Stones mounted "like grandmother used to wear." Our windows this week tell the story.

Jewelry the Ideal Christmas Present

A Christmas present is intended to perpetuate memories, a token of esteem from giver to recipient. Logically, then, articles of Jewelry are the ideal Christmas presents, for they are practically indestructible, when given fair treatment, and never fail of appreciation.

For the classes of Jewelry that will serve to delight those to whom you wish to favor, we suggest that you come and look at our stock, which is entirely new and composed of the most desirable designs.

But that is not all. By right of our location, away from the high-rent district, we are enabled to give decidedly better values than would be possible under reverse conditions.

Our stock is at its best now. Come and choose what you want and have us reserve it for you.

WONDER WORKER AMONG THE SICK

Remarkable Results Attained by Drugless Treatment

GIVE NATURE A CHANCE AND NATURE
WILL PERFORM MIRACLES

L. E. FARNSWORTH, D. C.

A simple application of common sense sometimes produces results that may justly be termed miraculous. What was a mystery yesterday has been reduced to a subject of universal understanding today. So it is with the sciences in all branches, but more especially with those appertaining to the healing of the human body. The science of healing has advanced by various stages until the diseases common to mankind have been mastered. The formerly pronounced incurable have been cured. The failure of medicine and surgery is no longer a sign of hopelessness. Where all the old methods, and even comparatively modern methods, have failed, the new science of chiropractic has worked its wonders through the skill of Dr. L. E. Farnsworth, who, with his hands, has accomplished what practitioners the world over have pronounced impossible.

Dr. Farnsworth has cured, absolutely, the most complicated cases of Paralysis, Spinal Fracture, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Constipation, Dyspepsia, Kidney, Bladder and Liver Trouble, and diseases peculiar to women, without the use of an ounce of drugs or a surgical instrument of any kind.

Are you a sufferer and do you want to get well? Health awaits your own action. Go on taking prescribed or recommended remedies if they are helping you, but otherwise investigate the drugless method and see whether or not there is not a hope for you as there has been for hundreds who were, but are no longer, in the same condition that you are. Call on Dr. Farnsworth tomorrow for examination which is free of charge. He will tell you your true condition. Then, if you decide to take the treatment, the fees are reasonable.
